THE IRS SERIOUS ABOUT THE ACA

AFFORDABLE CARE ACT

- Gone are the good-faith attempts at compliance and the leeway for filing inaccuracies. The IRS is gearing up for the 2016 ACA reporting filings (due in 2017) to generate significant revenue.
- A recent article written by the National Law Review notes that the IRS expects to generate $228 billion in revenue from the Employer Mandate between 2017-2026. In our latest blog, we walk through a checklist of issues large employers should consider to get ready for ACA reporting due next year. The checklist includes:
 - Understanding the IRS' use of big data to find filing anomalies and issue fines
 - Meeting the new 95% Employer Mandate threshold
 - Providing accurate data to reduce fine exposure
 - Ensuring proper worker classifications beyond just full-time and part-time employees
 - Staying up-to-date on forms and regulations is vital to success
 - Handling corrected returns reduces 2015 audit risk
 - Establishing an ACA information reporting team is crucial to compliance
 - And more...
 - The IRS is going to collect—don't let them collect from your organization.

IEBP Lessons Learned

➤ IEBP Enhancements

- Lack of Dependent Drops on ALE Groups due to non self-funded entity
 - IEBP is a self-funded entity and we take risk on behalf of our Pool membership.
 - IEBP purchases stop loss at $750,000 specific deductible because we are self-funded.
 - The IEBP Pool is self-funded but we were coached that each one of our members were fully-funded under the IEBP self-funded umbrella.
 - Due to the above information, IEBP identified each one of our Pool members as “Employer Sponsored Coverage” for Non-ALE employers and for the ALEs we identified the employer as non-self-funded.
 - These decisions created no dependent drops on the 1095-C. The dependents did drop on the 1095-B.
 - Depending on size of employer and funding status of plan, IRS requires reporting entities to use of one or two sets of forms:
 - B Forms
 - Form 1095-B, generally used to distribute coverage information to covered individuals in (i) all fully insured plans, or (ii) self-insured plans maintained by non-ALEs
 - Form 1094-B, used to batch and transmit copies of the distributed Forms 1095-B to the IRS
 - C Forms
 - Form 1095-C, used by ALE members to distribute offer and coverage information to (i) all full-time employees, and (ii) other individual covered under any self-insured plan they maintain
 - Form 1094-C, used to batch and transmit copies of the distributed Forms 1095-C to the IRS, and to make certain ALE member-wide certifications

Part III: Complete ONLY if the employer offers employer-sponsored self-insured health coverage in which the employee or other individual enrolled. For this purpose, employer-sponsored self-insured health coverage does not include coverage under a multiemployer plan.		All employee family members that are covered individuals through the employee's enrollment (for example, because the employee elected family coverage) must be included on the same form as the employee (or individual to whom the offer was made). For example, if the employee is offered family coverage by his or her employer under a self-insured health plan and enrolls in the family coverage, the employee and employee's family members that are covered under the plan must all be reported on Form 1095-C.			An ALE Member with a self-insured major medical plan and a health reimbursement arrangement (HRA) is required to report the coverage of an individual enrolled in both types of minimum essential coverage in Part III under only one of the arrangements. An ALE Member with an insured major medical plan and an HRA is not required to report in Part III HRA coverage of an individual if the individual is eligible for the HRA because the individual enrolled in the insured major medical plan. An ALE Member with an HRA must report coverage under the HRA in Part III for any individual who is not enrolled in a major medical plan of the ALE Member.
		If two or more employees employed by the same employer are spouses or employee and dependent, and one employee enrolled in a coverage option under the plan that also covered the other employee(s) (for example, one employee spouse enrolled in family coverage that provided coverage to the other employee spouse and their employee dependent child). the enrollment information should be reflected only on the Form 1095-C for the employee who enrolled in the coverage (but would report the other employee family members as covered individuals).
